

Telemarketers should not be allowed to call homes who have put their names and numbers on the "Do Not Call List." Each person who has put their name on the list has made a statement that says they do not wish to be harrassed in their home by sales calls. There's absolutely no reason we should allow telemarketers to harrass people.